

CEO's Message August 2025

Dear Parents and Teachers,

This academic session, let's underscore the continuous importance of Social-Emotional Learning (SEL). In a world of rising stress, anxiety, and uncertainty, nurturing empathy, resilience, and effective communication in our children is paramount. These aren't just skills; they're lifelong tools. Encourage open dialogue, active listening, and collaborative problem-solving. By consistently fostering SEL, we empower them to navigate challenges, build strong relationships, and thrive emotionally, now and in the future.
